《陶渊明诗选》

作者简介

Tao Yuanming (365-427) was a great pastoral poet, whose works had a profound influence on the subsequent development of Chinese poetry. Contained in this volume is a selection of poems translated by Gladys Yang and Yang Xianyi mostly when they were students at the University of Oxford fifty years ago. The book is prefaced by the late well-known scholar, Wang Yao, who made significant contributions to the study of classical Chinese literature.
