《中国西藏的历史地位》

内容概要

In recent years, more and more foreign personnel are showing a concern about Tibet. In order to meet their needs, we have compiled this book based on the academic monograph Comments on the Historical Status of Tibet published in 1995 by the Nationalities Press.

Comments on the Historical Status of Tibet expounds upon the close relations between the region of Tibet and ancient China making use of rich and accurate historical materials, especially those showing that Tibet has been a part of Chinese territory since the Yuan Dynasty (1271-1368). It forcefully denies the entire ideological system of "Tibetan independence" and, for the first time, systematically answers the theories put forward by the Dalai clique. The Chinese edition of this work has attracted great attention in China and was granted the 1996 Excellent Book Award in China.
