《广西概览》

前言

This place boasts China's oldest canal —— the Xing'an Lingqu Canal—— linking the Pearl and the Yangtze river systems, and promoting communications and the mingling of the cultures between China's Central Plains and Lingnan, the southeastern provinces of Guangdong and Guangxi. This place boasts the starting point of ancient China's Maritime Silk Road —— Hepu Port —— a thread between Chinese and Western cultures advancing the development and progress of world civilization and Chinese civilization. This place boasts the "earth's fairest" landscape, namely Guilin, and the "Hawaii of the East," namely Beihai Silver Beach. It is also a wonderland of Chinese folksong, the permanent host of China-ASEAN Expo, China's homeland of non-ferrous metals, and its most convenient portal for communications with ASEAN. This place is Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region. Guangxi is a place of picturesque natural beauty at any time of year. This land of long history has nurtured thriving ethnic cultures. Economic development means its people live a pleasant and comfortable life, and social progress has brought solidarity and harmony to all ethnic groups on this land. Whatever the ethnic group, the people of Guangxi seize every development opportunity with acute vision and a steadfast spirit. The China-ASEAN Free Trade Zone was established in 2010, right on schedule, and the Pan-Pearl River Delta Regional Cooperation has won strong support from the central government. A new round of preferential policies for China's Western Development will soon be unveiled. The exploration and opening-up of the Beibu Gulf is in full swing. Work is underway across the full length of the Xijiang River "Golden Waterway" construction project. Infrastructure construction has proceeded in an all-round way. Step by step, the grand plan for achieving cultural prosperity has been implemented and the blueprint plan for a wealthy, civilized and harmonious new Guangxi is becoming a vigorous reality.

内容概要

《广西概览(英文版)》内容简介：This place boasts China's oldest canal —— the Xing'an Lingqu Canal —— linking the Pearl and the Yangtze river systems, and promoting communications and the mingling of the cultures between China's Central Plains and Lingnan, the southeastern provinces of Guangdong and Guangxi.

This place boasts the starting point of ancient China's Maritime Silk Road —— Hepu Port —— a thread between Chinese and Western cultures advancing the development and progress of world civilization and Chinese civilization.

This place boasts the "earth's fairest" landscape, namely Guilin, and the "Hawaii of the East," namely Beihai Silver Beach. It is also a wonderland of Chinese folk song, the permanent host of China-ASEAN Expo, China's homeland of non-ferrous metals, and its most convenient portal for communications with ASEAN.

This place is Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region.

Guangxi is a place of picturesque natural beauty at any time of year. This land of long history has nurtured thriving ethnic cultures. Economic development means its people live a pleasant and comfortable life, and social progress has brought solidarity and harmony to all ethnic groups on this land.

Whatever the ethnic group, the people of Guangxi seize every development opportunity with acute vision and a steadfast spirit. The China-ASEAN Free Trade Zone was established in 2010, right on schedule, and the Pan-Pearl River Delta Regional Cooperation has won strong support from the central government. A new round of preferential policies for China's Western Development will soon be unveiled. The exploration and opening-up of the Beibu Gulf is in full swing. Work is underway across the full length of the Xijiang River "Golden Waterway" construction project. Infrastructure construction has proceeded in an all-round way. Step by step, the grand plan for achieving cultural prosperity has been implemented and the blueprint plan for a wealthy, civilized and harmonious new Guangxi is becoming a vigorous reality.

章节摘录

插图：Located on a low latitude, neighboring the tropical ocean in the south, adjacent to Yunnan-Guizhou Highland and Lingnan Mountains in the north, the center of Guangxi is bisected by the Tropic of Cancer. It has a subtropical monsoon climate with warm winters, hot summers and abundant precipitation under the alternating influence of warm, humid air from the ocean and cold, dry air from the north. The last decade recorded an average annual temperature of 17-23℃, with a low point in January of 6-16℃, and the high of 24-29 in July. Guangxi's annual precipitation of 1,063-2,638 mm, sunshine hours of 1,167-2,274, 289-365 frost-free days, and rare cold winters in most parts make it possible to grow a variety of crops throughout the year.
